YOUR PASSWORD IS YOURS ALONE!

THE IT DEPARTMENT WILL NEVER ASK YOU FOR YOUR PASSWORD

More and more often we are encountering groups whose aim it is to steal our digital identity, often through use of social engineering techniques.

Through various, credible means, often in the form of interactions which at first glance seem plausible, they try to persuade us to give them our username and password.

USERNAME AND PASSWORD

Together, your username and password form your electronic identity on UIB's IT Systems. Your username is nothing secret; it can be seen for example in your email: But your password is yours alone. It protects your personal information and identity against misuse. Therefore this should never be made known.

Never give out your password: Don't write it down on a piece of paper that sits on your desk or is attached to your screen – instead choose a password that is easy for you to remember.

Keep your UIB password just for UIB, please don't use it as your password on other systems.

THE IT DEPARTMENT WILL NEVER ASK YOU FOR YOUR PASSWORD

We have the necessary tools that enable us to do most of the jobs that we need to do without your intervention. In situations where we need your identity to complete a task, we will do that together with you; we would ask you to type in your password, we won't ask you to give it to us.

If you are asked for your password then there is a high probability that someone is trying to trick you.

If you feel the least bit unsure, contact us at BRITA so that we can help with clarification. There are no stupid questions when it comes to IT security.
